

Hello my name is John and I am a local tennis coach with over 21 years of playing experience and over 11 years of teaching experience!

As a life long tennis player, my unique and fun view of the game and teaching style will surely enhance any player's game. I have also enjoyed a four year college career at Johnson & Wales University where we won our conference championship my senior year while I was co-captain of our team. Currently coaching the boys team at Columbia Grammar & Preparatory School in Manhattan's upper west side.

My teaching style has been influenced by my uncle (a tennis pro for over 40 years now, who was a former top U.S. ranked tennis player) and younger pros who have mentored me along the way to help mold my game and teaching style to fit the modern tennis game. I not only teach with analogies that allow players to feel the right shots, but they can have video analysis of their strokes too!
